

Heritage Shop

of Newfoundland & Labrador

The Heritage Shops of Newfoundland and Labrador present the history and heritage of our province. They are operated by the Historic Sites Association of Newfoundland and Labrador, a not-for-profit pan provincial organization. All proceeds from the sale of products in the Heritage Shops support various local culture and heritage projects across the province.

New Product Considerations

New products may be considered; the products are juried by a small committee on a seasonal basis. The jury will look for quality, suitability, and price point, with special attention to products that reflect the themes of our National Historic Sites and the history and heritage of our province.

If you are interested in selling your products in one or more of the Heritage Shops, please drop off to one of our store locations or you may mail market ready samples with an itemized price list to:

The Historic Sites Association
10 Forbes St, Suite 204
Chelsea Building
St. John's NL
A1E 3L5

The HSA cannot send samples back to you, so you will need to make arrangements to have them picked up after the product review meeting. Because of the number of samples received we can only store samples up to six weeks after the meeting. Dates of meetings in 2022 are TBD.

Checklist of things to include:

- Contact information (must include email address and phone number)
- Your wholesale price list
- Product content and special care instructions
- Why your product suits the HSA's mandate
- Samples should be submitted ready to sell in the stores (proper packaging & support material)
- You may include an artist profile

Thank you for choosing the Heritage Shops!
